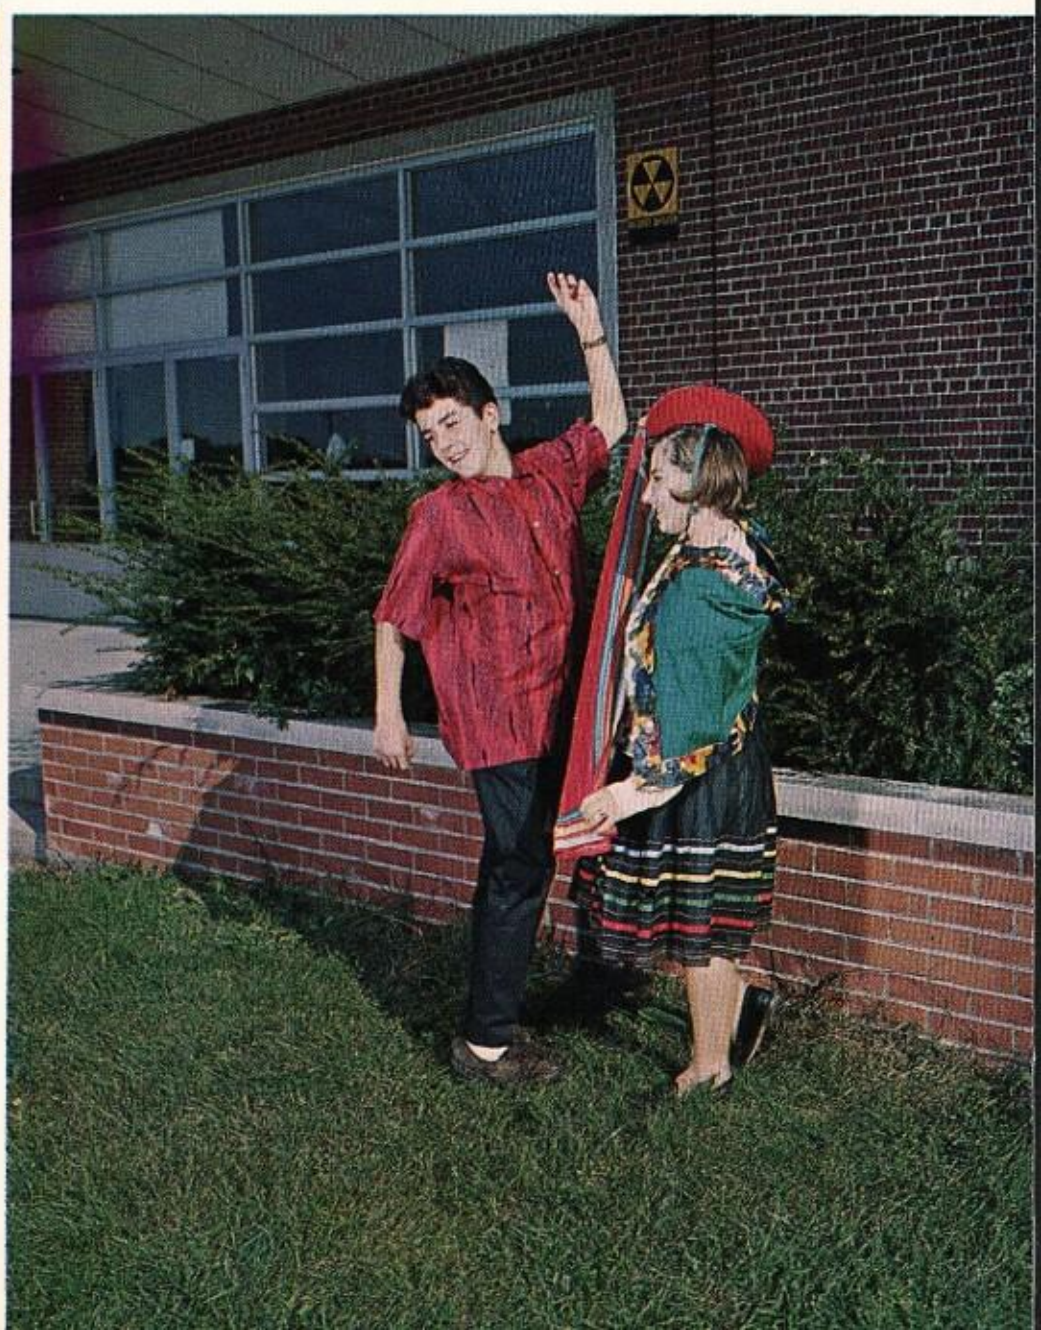
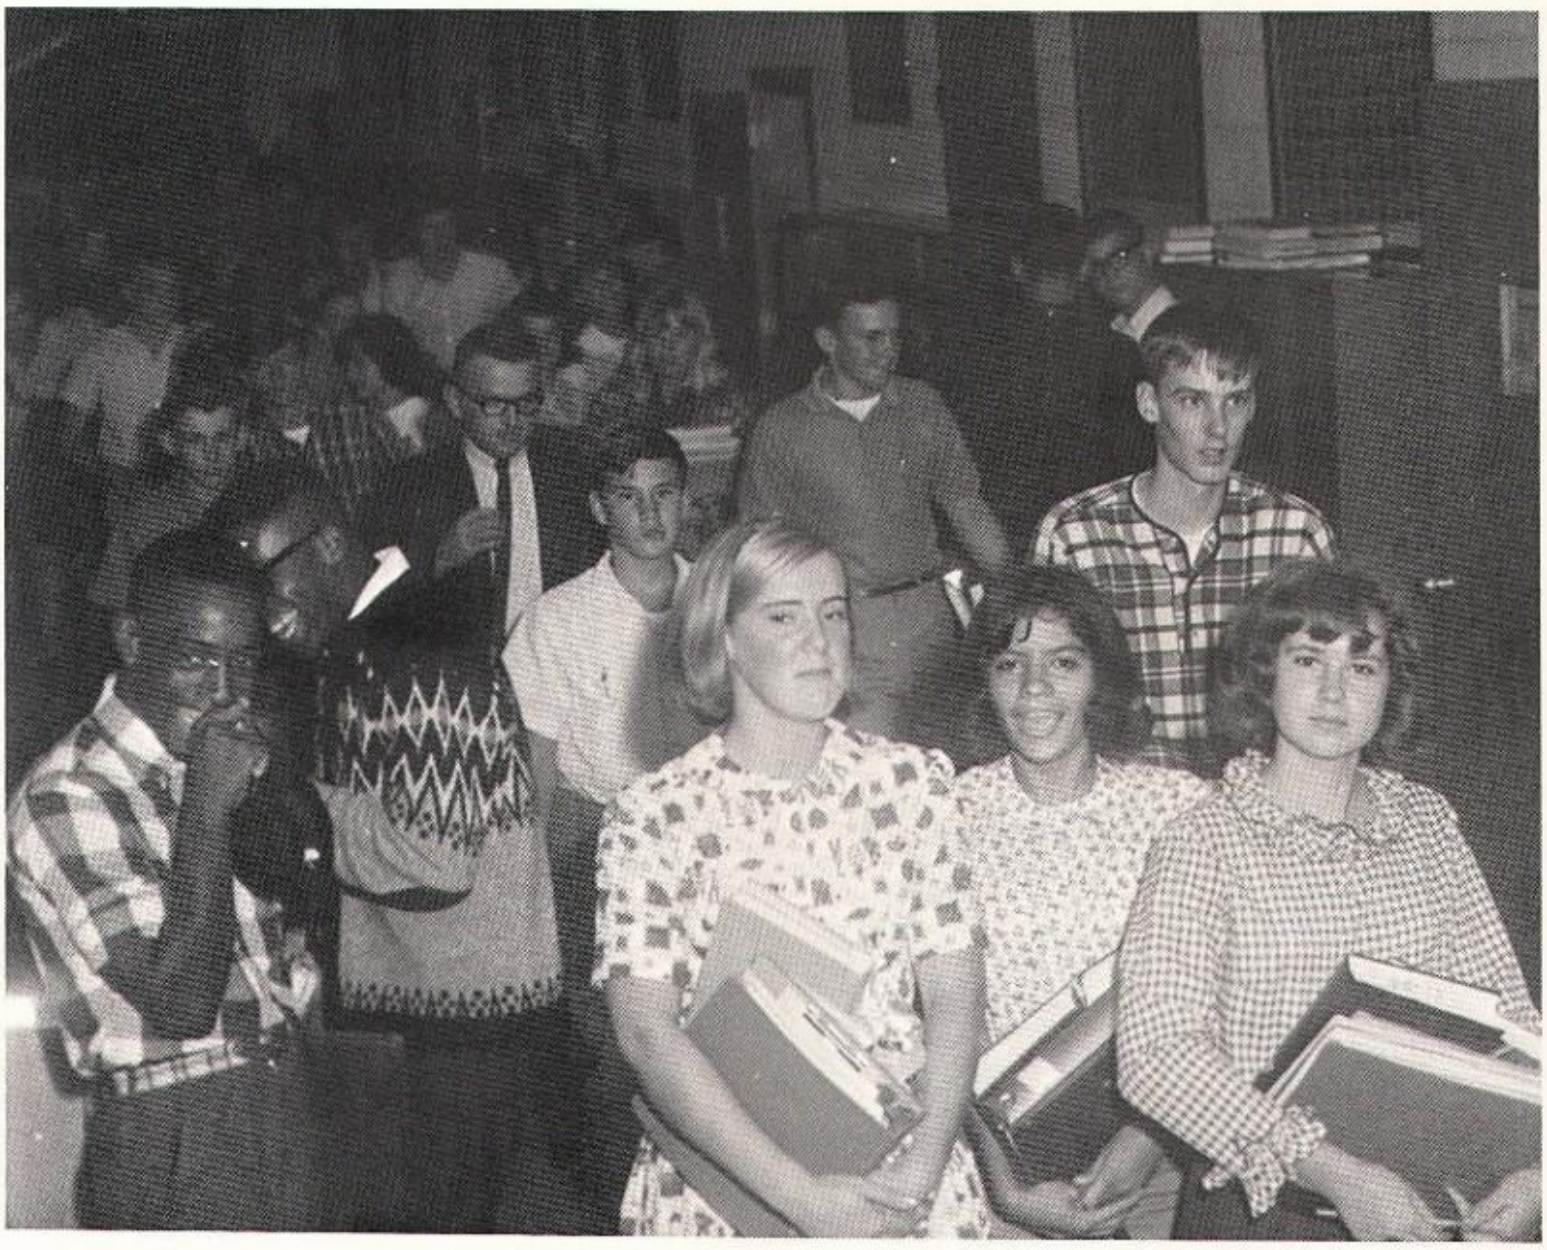
From the World Over —



We Come to Fort Knox

Foreword



It is not at all surprising to hear a "Guten Morgen," a "Buenos dias," or an "Au revoir," in the halls of Fort Knox High School. The lives of the students here are greatly influenced by the cultures of the many places across America and the world in which they have lived and visited. Because our varied backgrounds so greatly affect our school life, the idea of such a widely-traveled high school student body, perhaps unique in America, emerges as the theme of The Eagle of 1966.

FACULTY AND ADMINISTRATION

TO THE SENIORS OF FORT KNOX HIGH SCHOOL

The ability to foretell the future accurately has never been achieved by man, still he is constantly trying to predict tomorrow in the light of past and present events. It is with this guidance that I foresee for you a world of inestimable challenge. Science, industry, politics, and other fields will compete for the trained minds of men to an ever increasing extent. The standard of excellence will be the acceptable measurement of your performance, and mediocrity will be more unacceptable than it is today. Greater demands will be placed upon you who are qualified to assist in meeting the needs of a complex society, but the rewards will be commensurate with your ability to do so.

I congratulate you on having attained this level of preparation, and I challenge you to make this the foundation upon which to build for a future with unparalleled opportunitites.

A. D. SURLES, JR.

Johnson; Col. Russell W. Ernst, President of the Board; Mr. Herschel J. Roberts, Superintendent, Secretary of the Board. Not shown: Maj. John L. Fletcher.

Congratulations, Seniors of 1966. I wish each of you success as you go forward. Progress through education is a worthy goal. If pursued, it will bring generous dividends.

HERSCHEL J. ROBERTS
Superintendent

In preparing for a world where barriers between men and nations must be torn down, I challenge each individual of this graduating class to attack these barriers.

Fort Knox High School has helped to prepare you for life. Let your life be an inspiration for others and a source of pride for your teachers.

S. M. MATARAZZO
Director of Secondary Education

Congratulations, Senior Class of '66. May the wholesome attitude, good judgment, and hard work that characterized your high school years make you masters of your own future in a free and democratic society.

CARL L. WILLIAMS
Assistant Superintendent

Congratulations and best wishes to the Seniors of '66. Good luck comes to those who are prepared to receive it. At this time you have a good start, continue. Remember, the harder you work, the luckier you are.

R. H. DOWNING
